

Emma watson no underwear

Continue

The 19-year-old astounded thousands of fans as she arrived at the London event and accidentally gave them a glimpse of her underwear as she adjusted her dress. However, Miss Watson, who plays Hermione Granger in the Potter films, made light of the embarrassing error as she was questioned about it on US television. In an interview with chat show host David Letterman the actress was shown a photo of her grappling with the bottom half of her free-flowing vintage 1970s Ossie Clark dress and exposing her briefs. "Tell us what's going on here," demanded Letterman in a deadpan voice as he put a copy of the picture on his desk. Miss Watson giggled and held her head in her hands as she replied: "This was a small wardrobe malfunction that happens. I don't actually remember it happening." Hinting that the error was not as bad as photographs of some celebrities who have accidentally bared all in similar circumstances, she added: "At least I'm wearing underwear." The actress appeared on the Late Show with Letterman, to promote Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince, which is released in cinemas on July 15. It is the sixth film in the hugely successful series. Karwai Tang/WireImageThe girl can't catch a break! Emma Watson doesn't intend to show much skin on the red carpet, and yet, the 23-year-old actress seems to suffer more wardrobe malfunctions than anyone else. Such was the case in London Monday, when Watson accidentally flashed her SPANX while posing at the Noah premiere in Leicester Square. Her sartorial slip-up aside, the Brown University senior looked elegant as ever wearing a bespoke Ralph Lauren Collection column halter gown, which featured a pleated silk-georgette panel at the hip. Watson accessorized with Anita Ko earrings and Jennifer Fisher cuffs and carried a Jimmy Choo clutch. When she recently opened up her beauty bag, it included Commando Better Than Nothing panties. Watson's "whoopsies" moment is just the latest in a long line of embarrassing events. At the Perks of Being a Wallflower premiere in September 2012, Watson unknowingly unveiled her left nipple pastie. A Finch & Partners' pre-BAFTA party in February 2011, her left breast fell out of her low-cut mini-dress. And when Watson showed up for the Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows - Part 1 premiere in November 2010, her backless dress exposed her not-so-well-placed fashion tape. Perhaps her most famous incident was when she accidentally exposed her knickers at the Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince premiere in July 2009. "This was a small wardrobe malfunction that happens," she later said. "I don't actually remember it happening. At least I was wearing underwear!" Watson began working with a stylist years ago to avoid such scenarios. "I have to at this point," the British movie star told Glamour magazine in 2012. "When I was younger, I used to do it all myself, but I've had to get help because it's gotten to a stage where I can't show up in my Conversees or whatever I bought from High Street. And just practically, these gowns are ridiculous. You're being photographed from every angle, so not only do you have to consider how the thing looks, but whether you're going to be able to sit in it and whether people are going to be able to see up your skirt." Speaking to The Sunday Times March 30, the Lancôme spokesmodel said she seeks red carpet advice from her mother and friends. "I love showing them images and asking, 'What do you think of this dress?' I call on my boyfriends for advice all the time. I mean friends who are boys, and my girlfriends." After 13 years in show business, does Watson still worry about getting it wrong on the red carpet? "As a younger woman, that pressure got me down, but I've made my peace with it," said Watson, who also stars in The Bling Ring, My Week with Marilyn and This is the End. "With airbrushing and digital manipulation, fashion can project an unobtainable image that's dangerously unhealthy. I'm excited about the ageing process. I'm more interested in women who aren't perfect. They're more compelling." Emma Watson is all grown up in new movie 'The Bling Ring' (American Zoetrope)New stills and a trailer have been released of the upcoming film and shows the 22-year-old flashing her bra as she portrays real-life convicted felon Alexis Neiers. Sofia Coppola directed the movie, which is inspired by actual events, and sees a group of fame-obsessed teenagers, Rebecca (the ringleader), Marc, Nicki, Sam and Chloe, known as the Bling Ring, use the Internet to track celebrities' whereabouts in order to rob their homes. Watson takes on the role of Nicki in the film, and can be seen dancing in a nightclub in the trailer as well as gambling and drinking. The 22-year-old can be seen flashing her bra in the Sofia Coppola directed film (Scope Features) Watson has come a long way from her days as Hermione Granger (WENN) In real-life, the burglars targeted celebrities such as Orlando Bloom, Lindsay Lohan and Paris Hilton. However, Neiers pled guilty to the charges despite being caught on CCTV at Bloom's house, and having a designer handbag and a Chanel necklace found in her bedroom. Watson's portrayal of the 21-year-old is obviously world's away from the character she is best-known for in the hit franchise 'Harry Potter'. Since saying goodbye to Hermione Granger in 2011, the British actress has enjoyed a few varied roles in films such as 'My Week with Marilyn' and 'The Perks of being a Wallflower.' 'The Bling Ring' is expected to be released in cinemas on June 14. The actress is world's away from her Harry Potter character in the upcoming film (American Zoetrope) Lawsuits, parodies, love affairs, full frontal nudity and more Rags-to-riches billionaire author J.K. Rowling is nothing if not protective of her life's work. Since the release of the first novel in the Harry Potter series in 1997, Rowling and her corporate sidekicks Bloomsbury, Scholastic and Warner Bros. have gone after everyone from the U.S. Army, adolescent girls and sweet old librarians - and Rowling herself was accused of stealing her entire storyline from a penniless writer who wrote an 18-page book before he died. In the meantime, the teenage stars of the Harry Potter films found time to do a little damage as well. They got high, lost their virginity to a cougar and flashed their undies to the world. Here are the 14 most shocking Harry Potter scandals of all time. Emma Watson was grateful she was wearing underwear at the world premiere of 'Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince'. The 19-year-old actress - who plays school swot Hermione Granger in the hit wizard movie franchise - inadvertently flashed her panties at waiting fans as she adjusted her dress during the event in London's Leicester Square on Tuesday night (07.07.09), but knows it could have been even more embarrassing. She said: "This was a small wardrobe malfunction that happens. I actually don't remember it happening." At least I'm wearing underwear in the photos! The teenage beauty now realises she has a lot to learn when it comes to avoiding embarrassing situations. She added: "I'm still learning, definitely still learning!" Emma also confirmed she is going to university in America, but would not reveal which one. The star - who is rumoured to be attending either Yale or Columbia - said: "I'm moving to the States. I'm doing a liberal arts degree and I'll hopefully focus in humanities." "I'm young and indecisive and not quite sure what I want to major in - maybe English, or maybe art." By Richard Simpson for MailOnline Updated: 01:19 GMT, 10 July 2009 She displayed a little more than she planned to at the world premiere of the latest Harry Potter film in London this week. But Emma Watson has managed to make light of the wardrobe error which revealed her knickers to a crowd of thousands. She laughed off the incident on U.S. television, saying: 'At least I was wearing underwear.' Keeping her dress firmly in place: Emma Watson in New York yesterday after an interview on the David Letterman Show in which she talked about her 'wardrobe malfunction' at the Harry Potter premiere in London on Tuesday A model of decorum: The actress was determined not to repeat her faux pas The 19-year-old was grilled about the embarrassing episode by chatshow host David Letterman on the Late Show with Letterman. He produced a picture of her adjusting the bottom half of her free-flowing vintage 1970s Ossie Clark dress - and inadvertently putting her knickers on display. "Tell us what's going on here," said a deadpan Letterman as he put a copy of the picture on his desk. Miss Watson giggled and held her head in her hands as she replied: "This was a small wardrobe malfunction that happens. Look away now: Letterman shows Emma Watson the photo of her adjusting her dress and inadvertently putting her underwear on show It could have been worse: The actress, who plays Hermione Granger in the Potter films, was red faced, but said: "At least I'm wearing underwear" Oh well: The teenage beauty said she was 'still learning' about red carpet etiquette 'I don't actually remember it happening.' The actress, who plays Hermione Granger in the Potter films, appeared on the show to promote Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince, which is released in cinemas on July 15. It is the sixth film in the hugely successful series. Miss Watson could be spending a lot more time in the U.S. in the future. In a recent interview she revealed that she was interested in going to university in the country. She said she had considered taking up a place at Cambridge after getting straight As in her A Levels, but was put off because of the interest her going there would generate. 'Cambridge is so high profile', she said. 'I definitely am attracted to [going to study] in the States for that reason.' Hello America: The star arrived for the interview in a black-spotted dress and brogues before changing into her other outfit {"status":"error","code":"499","payload":"Asset id not found: readcomments comments with assetId=1198489, assetTypeId=1"}
